DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: a colon (:) should be added after "comprising" in line 2. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 4, 7-9, 12 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Simonsen et al (cited by Applicant). Simonsen et al teach a sensor with an arrangement having a large number of irradiation and detection sites. The arrangement allows many different combinations of irradiation and detection sites for example, two pairs of complimentary emitter and detector elements that define two lines at right angles to each other. See col. 16, ll. 11-18 and Figure 12. Light of wavelength 805nm is emitted. Col. 19, ll. 31-34. The sensor body has upper and lower surfaces. A sensing pair and a normalizing pair are both on the lower surface. See col. 20, l. 48 to col. 21, l. 9 and Figs. 13 and 21.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 2, 3, 5, 6, 10, 11 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Simonsen et al, as applied to claims 1, 4, 7 and 12 above, and further in view of Kaffka et al. Simonsen et al teach a sensor as recited for claims 1 and 4. Simonsen et al do not teach a silicon detector. However, Kaffka et al teach that a silicon detector offers satisfactory performance to measure blood glucose. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the sensor of Simonsen et al with a silicon detector, as taught by Kaffka et al, so as to use a detector known for its satisfactory performance in measuring blood glucose.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 15-24 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the claims distinguish over the prior art in that a system and method having a sensor with two pairs of emitter and detector elements at right angles to each other is not taught for use with hemodialysis.
